Patrick Hautrive
Age 48 born in Paris 1963

Linux Administrator
(System, Network and Training)

Career goal

After university studies in economics at Paris, and a career in banking and education, I undertook a retraining in communication and information technology. I would like to participate in an open source project in a Linux environment. I propose to implement my skills in systems and networks. I travelled in many countries, I speak currently English and I am MCP certified.

I have been using GNU/Linux (Debian, Red Hat, OpenSuSE) and Free Software since 2002 (installing, configuring services and network administration, troubleshooting with the command line and shell scripting). I have founded a Linux User Group, and have given many conferences and workshops in the country of France. I have written documentations on UNIX commands. Mainly self-taught, I have a level LPI Certification.

I can work as Technician, Administrator, Network Supervisor, Support Consultant or Trainer
